WOODCHUCK HUNT IN BROADWAY BICYCLE STORE

Johnny Jencks, chauffeur for Dr. J. J. Donahue, was out on a doctor's hunting dog Thursday morning when C. V. Ponderton couldn't find a small woodchuck that had escaped from a hole under a pair of work clothes that had been on the window of Mr. Ponderton's bicycle store in the Central building on Broadway.

The woodchucks were brought to the store by a Laurel Hill boy, but one escaped from the box in the store overnight. Look where he would, Mr. Ponderton could not locate the missing woodchuck.

He found him, Mr. Jencks volunteered and soon returned with the doctor's brown bound. Mr. Dog was given a sniff of the box where the woodchuck had been and then he ran off on the scent, with every hair bristling with eagerness.

The chase led to the cellar where the house led straight to a pile of stovepipes, where the woodchuck was found inside, curled up in an elbow. He was easily put back in the box by carrying him upstairs in the stovepipe.

BOHARA FOUND GUILTY OF THEFT

Steve Bohara, who had few roomers on Dec. 15 last at his home on North Main street near the corner of Second street, was found guilty of the theft of a pocketbook containing four $100 bills and nine $10 bills under his pillow. When he woke up in the morning he found the pocketbook and the money gone. The money was part of some insurance payment he had collected a short time before.

A willamette automobile dealer from whom Bohara bought an automobile, testified that there was a $100 bill in the money that Bohara paid him for the machine. Another witness testified that Bohara was in the store where the money was found and tendered a $100 bill in payment for a purchase. Police Chief George Linton of Norwich also gave testimony that the state in the case of Bohara was called to the stand in his own defense by his attorney, V. P.

A. Quinn, and testified that he got the money from his wife, Mrs. Bohara, told the court that she had given the money to her husband but admitted that she had borrowed some money from Cudak the week before.

Alex Sedo of Groton, a laborer, was found guilty by the jury in the morning session of the criminal superior court at New London on the charge of assault with intent to kill Andrew Remarick with a piece of heavy iron pipe on Feb. 15 at the camp of the National Business Congress.

Judge Case made his charge to the jury in the case when court opened on Thursday morning, occupying about 15 minutes. Sedo was tried on the charge of assault with intent to kill.

The jury came back in less than 10 minutes with a verdict of guilty of assault with intent to kill.

Sedo was sentenced to the state prison for one year.

Next Tuesday.

Peter Saneli, alias Peter Pezza, of Groton, and Elizabeth Violet of Webster were brought to court charged with adultery on May 10. Both pleaded guilty and the woman was given six months in jail and placed on probation for one year.

The husband was called to the stand to take her home, while the man will be dealt with next week.

PRESTON CITY GRANGE HAS VICTORY PROGRAM

A large number of Preston City grangers gathered to pay tribute to the returned heroes for whom a Victory program was arranged at this week's meeting.

After the business part of the meeting was finished the master, Nathan H. Hall, declared the grange at ease and the lecturer presented the program.

George H. Pridgen, who was the first to speak, was followed by Mrs. Fred Bliss. They generously responded to an encore. Following this was a song by the grange.

Means, T. J. Lewis, chairman of the grange, spoke very interestingly on why the service flag was created, for what it stands, and closed with a loving tribute to the boys who are in the service.

After the singing of the grange song, a very pleasing soprano solo which was warmly applauded, and she responded with another selection.

The roll of heroes was then called, all members responding except Lieut. Webster D. Copp, who was called to St. Louis on business.
